PROJECT INFORMATION

Project Title:

Amount Applied For:

Total Project Budget:

1. Why is this project important?

Describe the context of change (issues and trends) in the community or region that this project will address. If this project focuses on research, what is the problem statement?

2. What will this project accomplish?

Identify the goal(s) of the project. (Describe how the project will implement values-based planning process(es), which strive to balance social, economic, environmental, and governance issues.)

3. Implementation Plan:

List the specific tasks or deliverables which, when complete, will realize the project goal(s). Identify the end product (report, case study, policy, etc.) that will be made available to the CIT partnership as an information resource. Research projects must provide a statement of methodology.

4. Project Partners, Collaborators and Personnel Resources:

List the CIT partner and collaborator organizations that will be involved with the project, and describe their roles. Identify key individuals, if appropriate. Include a letter from at least one CIT partner organization confirming its involvement.

5. Project Start and End Dates:

6. Promotion and Outreach Plans:

CIT projects should reach specific practitioner organizations and audiences. Who will the project reach, and by what means?

7. Evaluation:

Provide your plan to deal with the following questions. Upon completion of the project, we anticipate that you will be able to answer: Were the intended outcomes achieved? Which audiences were reached? Did the project increase the capacity of an organization, sector or community to improve values-based planning and the use and conservation of land? If the project is successful, how will the outcomes be sustained?

8. Project Budget:

Insert a budget that itemizes all projected expenditures and revenues (including in-kind contributions).
